

Mother Nature's Love

...and this morning, while I was in the Chicken Yard, the sun pushed her way through the clouds in the east, as the clouds huddled even closer in the west.

And Mother Nature
shed gentle tears of love from the space in between...